Llanarth village amenities include a small general store and family butcher shop, junior school, restaurant/hotel, garage with post office and garden centre.

The Cardigan Bay coast, famous for porpoises, grey seals, bottlenose dolphins, abundant bird life, clean sandy beaches, secluded coves, exhilarating coastal walks and colourful sunsets. Aberporth and neighbouring Tresaith are about 15 miles away, quiet seaside destinations that bustle with life in the summer months and Penbryn Sands are about a mile further along the coast. Delightful Llangrannog is 11 miles, with the National Trust headland of Ynys-Lochlyn jutting out to sea beyond, a splendid bird-watching site where rare choughs can be seen. Further along the coast north-easterly, New Quay is 5 miles distant, hugging the hillside overlooking the bay, with wide sandy beaches and a sheltered harbour, popular with sailing and water sports enthusiasts. The charming old smugglers' cove of Cwmttydu is near New Quay, where basking seals can sometimes be seen on the rocks.

Aberaeron is 4 miles away, a Georgian port town and seaside resort, with elegant, brightly painted houses, many of which are listed, and a picturesque harbour. This charming town offers good shopping and craft centres selling local produce, plenty of pubs and eateries, primary and secondary schools, leisure centre, swimming pool, 9-hole pitch & putt golf course, regattas, concerts, festivals, carnival, and delightful walks by the river and along the cliffs.

Cardigan is 20 miles away, an ancient and attractive market town at the north of the Pembrokeshire Peninsula on the Teifi estuary, with good shopping amenities including a Tesco store, indoor market, schools, college, library, leisure centre, swimming pool, doctors' surgeries, dentists, small community hospital, cinema/theatre, galleries and craft shops, pubs and restaurants, food festivals, Guildhall, Heritage Centre on the wharf, and the remains of a 12th Century Norman castle overlooking the river. Cardigan's 18-hole Golf Course to the north of town offers stunning views over the sea and the Teifi estuary.

Aberystwyth is about 20 miles north of the property. Situated at the mouths of the rivers Ystwyth and Rheidol, this delightful town lies between three hills and two beaches and is surrounded by beautiful, unspoilt countryside. Regarded as the "capital of mid Wales", the town is home to the National Library, has a University set near the seashore (founded 1872), and a mix of architecture with several historic buildings. There is a wide promenade and a marina, and Victorian/Edwardian buildings line the front. The town has good shopping amenities, an arts centre, cinema, sports facilities, general hospital, numerous cafes, bars and restaurants, hotels and pubs, and the usual seaside attractions, as well as the ruins of an ancient Welsh castle and, in the hills nearby, the remains of an iron age fort. The leisure centre has two swimming pools, sports hall, fitness room, health suite, outdoor pitches, cafe and bar. There is an 18-hole parkland Golf Course at the edge of town with sea views (some 6½ miles from the property). The Aberystwyth Electric Cliff Railway climbs Constitution Hill from the promenade, and stunning views can be enjoyed from the summit, where the famous Camera Obscura with its revolving mirror is sited (a reproduction of the Victorian original). Aberystwyth has an impressive main line Railway Station as well as a Coach/Bus Station. Trains run to Machynlleth, Shrewsbury and Birmingham, where there is an International Airport.

Carmarthen is 30 miles southerly on the meandering Towy River, an ancient county town and commercial centre combining an old world charm of quaint narrow streets and traditional shops with bustling markets and modern shopping amenities including well known stores such as Marks & Spencer, Next, Debenhams, Tesco, Morrison's, etc. There are night clubs, pubs, hotels, restaurants, theatre, art galleries, leisure centre, schools, university college, general hospital, heritage centre, and the County Museum on the outskirts at Abergwili. The town is served by good rail links through Swansea to Cardiff, and main roads radiate out to all regions including the A48/M4 link road.
