THE LOCALITY:

Llanfihangel-ar-arth village is less than a mile east of the property with a community hall and a church. The larger village of Pencader is 2½ miles southerly with two shops and a primary school.

Llandysul is 2½ miles from the property north-westerly, by the River Teifi, a busy little market town with a selection of shops, post office, banks, doctor's and dentist's services, junior and secondary schools, leisure centre with swimming pool, cafes, pubs, an ancient church, village hall, playing field and riverside park, together with an angling association (the river is well known for its trout, sea trout and salmon), and a canoe centre with a white-water slalom course at Pont Tyweli (a village on the opposite side of the river). The river in this area is diverse and lovely, offering rippling shallows and deep pools, foaming white water and calm woodland stretches. The region is known as "woollen mill country" since the rushing waters of the Teifi and its tributaries powered the waterwheels that served the many woollen and flour mills in bygone times. The Teifi forms the boundary between Ceredigion and Carmarthen hereabouts.

Llanllwni village is about 3 miles easterly with a shop, primary school and pubs. Llanllwni mountain rises to some 408 metres to the south-east of the village, offering walks, cycling and horse riding and enjoys views over three counties from the top (Carmarthenshire, Ceredigion and Pembrokeshire). A little further away, the vast Brechfa Forest with extensive paths and trails for horse riding and mountain biking.

Newcastle Emlyn is 10 miles westerly, also on the Teifi, a quaint and popular old market town with a variety of independent shops including antique, craft and book shops, as well as supermarkets, chemists, banks, post office, town hall, library, theatre and art gallery, primary and secondary schools, leisure centre and swimming pool, doctor's, dentist's and optician's services, restaurants and cafes, hotels and plenty of pubs. Thursday is market day. The ruins of a medieval stand in a picturesque grassland setting overlooking the river on three sides, probably dating back to 1240.

The Teifi Valley offers delightful places to visit including the Teifi Valley Railway, Cenarth Falls & Salmon Leaps and the National Coracle Centre, Cilgerran Castle, and the Welsh Wildlife Centre near Cardigan at the mouth of the river.

The Cardigan Bay coast is within easy driving distance, with golden beaches, secluded coves, marine wildlife and wonderful walks.

Carmarthen is 15 miles southerly with general hospital, main line railway station, access to the A48/M4-link road, excellent shopping, multi-screen cinema, etc.
