THE LOCATION:

What3words: <https://w3w.co/earmarked.deal.headboard>

Road travel: Access to the A48 trunk road is 0.8 of a mile away, providing a route across south-west Wales to the west and links to the M4 to the west at Pont Abraham.

There are footpaths in the area ideal for dog walking/exercising and a little further afield, Llwyn Lech Owain Country park only 2.7 miles away, is an interesting 'outdoor venue' to visit.

Llandeilo is only 9 miles away, a small town at the fringe of the Black Mountain, with distinctive shops, galleries, pubs, hotels, good restaurants, main post office, health centre, primary and secondary schools, churches, and railway station (Heart of Wales line). The A483 road runs through the town leading southwards to Swansea. Llandeilo dates back to the 13th Century, the church and town being named after the 6th Century St. Teilo. Standing in an elevated situation on the banks of the River Towy, the town was once the medieval capital of Carmarthenshire, but the development of Llandeilo really grew in the 18th Century as a market town and banking centre for cattle drovers. It once had corn and woollen mills as well as a tanning industry, and it is still an agricultural centre nowadays. The town retains its old world charm, with narrow streets, historic Georgian buildings, and a delightful old stone single-span bridge over the Towy, built in 1848.

Carmarthen on the meandering Towy is 10 miles to the west, the ancient county town and commercial centre, combining an old world charm of quaint narrow streets and traditional shops with bustling markets and modern shopping amenities including well known stores such as Marks & Spencer, Monsoon, Curry's, Tesco, Argos, Next and a Multi-screen Cinema, along with pubs, clubs, hotels, restaurants, theatre, art galleries, leisure centre, swimming pool, schools, University college, West Wales General Hospital, heritage centre, and county museum. The town is served by good rail links through Swansea to Cardiff, and main roads radiate out to all regions, including the A40, A48/M4-Link, A484 and A485. The ruins of a Roman Amphitheatre can still be seen and the remains of a Norman castle built circa 1094 overlook the town and the river. Carmarthen's 18-hole Golf Course is a few miles north of town. Carmarthen Showground is on the south-western outskirts.
