THE LOCALITY:

Cynghordy is a small rural community easily accessible off the A483 road, with a church, chapel, and a little railway station, (three quarters of a mile or so from the property), on the scenic Heart of Wales country line which runs from Swansea up to Shrewsbury over 121 miles through beautiful countryside, connecting charming towns and villages. (Swansea provides inter-city services to London). The locality is predominantly dependent on farming and forestry, lying in the wide valley of the river Bran. The surroundings present opportunities for walking, riding, cycling, bird-watching, fishing, (with permits), and touring, numerous visitor attractions are within easy travelling distance. The A483 road travels up through the centre of Wales from Swansea to Chester, and the A40 trunk road can be accessed in Llandoverly, providing a route across south-west Wales and a scenic way into England. The M4 Motorway can be accessed about 29 miles south-westerly at Pont Abraham.

Cynghordy Viaduct is north of the station – a major feature of the landscape, built of stone in circa 1871 to carry the Heart of Wales railway line. The viaduct is 93 feet high and 650 feet long, with 18 arches, and provides passengers with fabulous countryside views. Further on the line passes through Sugar Loaf Tunnel, another local engineering wonder, (the middle of the tunnel is directly underneath the Carmarthenshire/Powys boundary).

Crychan Forest lies to the east of the property as the land rises from the Bran valley. This area extends from Llanwrtyd in the north, down to the fringe of the Brecon Beacons National Park in the south, and is criss-crossed by miles of way-marked trails, forest roads, and old cattle droving routes, over hills and valleys, beside streams and waterfalls, offering superb cycling, walking, horse riding and bird-watching opportunities, with plenty of viewpoints across beautiful countryside scenery.

Llandoverly is 4 miles from the property, a friendly and attractive old market town enjoying a lovely setting in the picturesque Towy Valley, surrounded by rolling hills near the glorious landscapes of the Cambrian uplands and the Brecon Beacons National Park. This popular town has a mix of Georgian and Victorian architecture, Norman Castle remains, a Heritage Centre and a famous public school, (Llandoverly College). There is a good selection of shops, a supermarket, post office, hotels, cafes, restaurants, pubs, swimming pool/leisure centre, doctor’s and dentist’s practices, small cottage hospital, primary schools, rugby club, bus service, and a Heart of Wales line railway station.

The Brecon Beacons National Park is easily accessible from Llandovery. It extends from Llandeilo in the west to Hay-on-Wye in the east, covering some 520 square miles, and incorporates the Black Mountain massif to the west, the Fforest Fawr, the Central Brecon Beacons and the Black Mountains Range to the east. The scenery is spectacular and diverse including high mountain peaks, gorges, waterfalls, lakes, open hills and moorland, as well as wooded valleys and lowlands with soft rolling farmland and clear meandering rivers. There are Castles at strategic points on the boundaries – at Hay-on-Wye, Brecon, Trecastle, Tretower, Crickhowell and Carreg Cennen.

Llanwrtyd Wells in Powys is about 6 miles north-easterly from the property by the river Irfon (a tributary of the river Wye), a charming little Victorian spa town in a lovely setting with a selection of shops, sub post office, garage, primary school, and health centre, pubs, hotels and restaurants. There is also a tourist information centre, a red kite centre, a Heart of Wales railway station, and a woollen mill on the outskirts of town. Llanwrtyd is an eisteddfod site and the locality is host to various annual events including an agricultural show and sheep dog trials, mountain biking and walking events, and more notably the World Bog Snorkelling Championships and the Man-versus-Horse Marathon. Llangammarch Wells is another spa town about 5 miles further on, also on the Heart of Wales line.

In the Upper Towy Valley, the Dinas Nature Reserve is about 8 miles north of the property, and the great Llyn Brianne Dam and Reservoir is about 10 miles northerly at the headwaters of the River Towy. Llandeilo is 16 miles south-westerly, Builth Wells 20 miles north-east, home to the celebrated Royal Welsh Agricultural Show, Brecon is 26 miles south-easterly, and Carmarthen is 30 miles south-west. The coast is about an hour's drive.
